

“THE 3 REASONS WHY YOU NEED TO START USING YOUR INTUITION”

What do Oprah Winfrey, Richard Branson and Einstein have in common? Each of them attribute their success to following their intuition. Is it that easy?

Being guided by that gut feeling or listening to the inner voice can be difficult especially when the feeling or voice is subtle. Rather than a shout or some sort of angelic being appearing, intuition is an inner experience that for many occurs sporadically when least expected or when developed, used consciously daily.

WHAT IS INTUITION?

It can be broken down into two forms:

SUBJECTIVE INTUITION – AFFECTED BY EMOTIONS AND EXPERIENCES OF THE PAST.

Many clinicians believe intuition to be numerous past experiences held within the subconscious waiting to manifest as warnings for an upcoming event or insight into a current situation. For example, if you have had a past experience with a bad business deal, maybe even witnessed a family member go through this. This experience is held onto by the subconscious, stored away ready to present itself months or years later when a situation arises where a business deal is about to be struck. Perhaps the memory of the past is not conscious in the mind however the emotional body has held onto this waiting to release the feelings of uncertainty and tapping into the mindset of self-doubt.

OBJECTIVE INTUITION - NOT AFFECTED BY EMOTIONS OR ANY EXPERIENCE. NON-PHYSICAL OR UNEXPECTED.

This is often termed as psychic or spiritual ability. Receiving information about a past, present or future event where by no means has the individual had a relationship to the information received. For example, a highly developed intuitive who has just met someone for the first time will receive information such as, the job they have, what they ate for breakfast or where they are physically about to go. All this information may come in the form of feeling, inner sight or hearing an inner voice speaking.

The aim of THE COLLEGE OF INTUITION is to work with objective intuition. It is with this form that all aspects of life can benefit.

HEALTH - Knowing when physical health is effected and how. By training the individual to see the triggers held within the emotional, energetic body health issues can be prevented or caught in time before they progress too far.

CAREER – Understanding the culture of a work place, alleviating stressful work situations. Knowing how to progress in a current role or move onto another. Receiving insights into work problems and how to navigate through this. Understanding and insight when it comes to dealing with difficult people or situations.

FAMILY – Having greater awareness of the dynamics and influence of family ties. Receiving the understanding of why people behave the way they do. Receiving guidance on how to help someone or even how to help yourself if others do not understand you.

RELATIONSHIPS – Knowing when someone is telling the truth. Guidance on whether to stay within the relationship, how to leave or why it is best to stay. Gaining insight into the experience or lesson.

LIFE PATH – Lessening the confusion of life. Receiving insights into which path to take and what is the best way to turn dreams into reality.

WHAT PREVENTS INTUITION?

Intuition is often watered down or overshadowed by two little voices:

The voice of reason, that part of ourselves that is dominated by the intellect. Reason tells us when something is tangible and therefore good or bad. It is based on our upbringing, personal experiences and beliefs.

The voice of fear suppresses the intuitive voice preventing the development of this ability. Movies around spirits, psychics are often portrayed with negative connotations instilling the fear and justifying the reason to stay away from learning about the unknown. For many, ignorance can seem like the best option.

Fear keeps us in our present predicament and reason gives validation to remain in this mindset. Both prevent and mock the voice of intuition which is the key to moving forward into a life that is filled with wonder and happiness.

Would you like to eliminate fear and clear the subconscious that may be sabotaging your progress?

WHERE DID YOUR INTUITION GO?

Take a moment to go back to the beginning.

As a child, can you remember that innocent sense of wonder? Playing outdoors in nature or building cities out of blocks. Nothing could stop the endless possibilities of the imagination.

Think about a more recent time when you observed a baby laughing or looking at 'nothing'. Has this inspired the question, what is it that they are seeing? Or who are they laughing at?

From the ages of 0-3 we are closely linked to the realm that each of us has come from. It is known by many names but essentially it is the source of life and that is what we shall refer to it as, the source. The source is composed of light, intelligence and a connection to all living beings. We never ever leave the connection to the source it is always with us, in fact it is often the intuitive feeling, voice or second sight that is the manifestation of the source connection. The source holds the truth of life itself and the life of everyone. Developing intuition is to access this truth for ourselves.

As for babies, they are closely connected to the truth and light of the source. They have not yet been swayed by social ideals, bombarded with the beliefs of humanity or come to know the worries and pressures that life can bring about. They are innocent and solely reliant on a parent or caregiver or so you may think. From the time we are born, we still have a strong connection to our intuition. We see, feel, hear and receive the messages that come from the source.

Many parents have expressed either concern or wonder at what their baby is seeing or pointing to. If a baby points to a photo of a deceased relative and smiles and repeatedly does this whenever they see the photo the parent begins to wonder, is there something in it? YES, is the answer. There is so much to experience beyond the limitation of the physical world and what we are taught to see and feel. An infant and toddler connect to this world and enjoy this ability.

From the ages of 3 to 4 1/2 children begin make the connection between the source and the physical world. This is when parenting is so crucial. Will you allow a child to remain connected to a world of the source or will that child be indoctrinated with social conformity?

We all know the answer. However, some children remain connected to the source in a conscious way. They talk to spirit people or even nature spirits, they interact more with imagination than the events occurring around them. Some even seem very advanced, speaking as if they have insights beyond their years. This is a common sign of intuition.

What were you like as a child? Did you see, feel even fear what you could not see. Perhaps you sensed that others were with you but this either brought fear or joy. Maybe a parent or guardian began to tell you not to behave this way.

Schooling and interacting with other children is often the beginning of the social environment indoctrinating its beliefs into our psyche. I have known of many school teachers telling children imagination is only for fun. Instead of understanding that it is an aspect of that innate sense we call intuition.

Mixing with other children can also lead to confusion. The mentality and beliefs of the parents inhibiting that innocence. Children mimicking the adult world in search of identity and trying to establish where they fit in. Being a sensitive child is hard enough without admitting to feeling or seeing what others cannot.

Think back to your younger days as you grew older did the intuitive feelings remain? Where they suppressed from fear of being different?

Perhaps the rational mind brought about good educational results and the promise of a prosperous life. This was at the detriment of sacrificing your intuition in return for living a life of other's expectations.

Somewhere deep within, intuition has remained dormant, rearing its head every now and then as a voice or a feeling that has guided you along a path that seemed unknown but comfortable. However, you experience it, intuition is part of you.

HOW DOES INTUITION INTERACT IN DAILY LIFE?

- ✓ Dreaming of events that come true.
- ✓ Meeting someone and experiencing a sudden headache, sore throat or another physical symptom. At first you begin to think where did that come from and then the other person comments on how unwell they are feeling. As soon as the interaction is over and both are physically separated the symptoms disappear.
- ✓ Perhaps you have thought of someone that you have not seen for a while. Suddenly they are in your mind just days before you meet or hear from them.
- ✓ Driving home and you suddenly decide to take a different route. Later you learn of major traffic delays on the way that you usually take.

Developing, strengthening and understanding intuition provides the individual with empowerment. It allows for the truth of a situation to surface enabling solutions, goals and even avoiding disaster.

There are many well-known people who openly speak about using intuition to advance their life. Deepak Chopra, Oprah Winfrey, Bill Gates, Einstein, Richard Branson are just to name a few.

By aligning your own mind, heart and being with the intuitive voice, ideas around projects flow through, opportunities present themselves almost like a miracle, stress and anxiety become diminished or even nonexistent and a whole lifestyle focused on prosperity and happiness is felt even when the world around us maybe in turmoil.

Wouldn't you like to go back to a time of wonder and sense of security at knowing there was so much more to life. A time before your innate power was suppressed by others or kept hidden for fear of ridicule. Now is the time to re connect to the power that is already with you.

THE COLLEGE OF INTUITION

Intuition truly is, a guiding force that is not dictated by reason or fear, quite the opposite it relies on trust and faith in the self. When the individual is ready to listen, a whole new world will open before them. Perspective changes, behavior, stresses and the self-imposed prison of worry disappears. Opportunity, solutions, love and self-respect emerge forging the way towards a new life of success and prosperity.

“I RELY FAR MORE ON GUT INSTINCT THAN RESEARCHING HUGE AMOUNTS OF STATISTICS”

- RICHARD BRANSON

“THE INTUITIVE MIND IS A SACRED GIFT AND THE RATIONAL MIND IS A FAITHFUL SERVANT. WE HAVE CREATED A SOCIETY THAT HONORS THE SERVANT AND HAS FORGOTTEN THE GIFT.”

- ALBERT EINSTEIN
